Dear Pastoral Search Committee:

Enclosed please find a copy of the Pastoral Transitions Manual for the BC/Yukon District of The Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada.

We would encourage you, as a committee to read the manual thoroughly and implement the suggestions as outlined. It would also be appreciated if you could submit a Church Profile as illustrated in Appendix H, and the Pastor Profile described in Section 6.5. 1.0 STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The purpose of this manual is to offer some suggestions which may clarify the committee's task and give some practical tools to aid in the process of pastoral selection. Listed below are some of the main objectives for which the manual was created.

Each assembly is unique. Each body of believers has strengths and weaknesses which are different from other churches. The Pastoral Search Committee does well to pause and look carefully at their church to see where attention needs to be given and where its strengths lie. Before any church calls a new pastor to lead them, they need to prayerfully examine themselves as an assembly to see what leadership strengths and abilities are needed for their church at this time. This manual will provide suggestions as to the various aspects of the ministry of the church that needs to be examined. Keep in mind that there is no such thing as the "perfect form"; simply use what is helpful to you at the time.

It is the goal of every Pastoral Search Committee to initiate a harmonious enriching relationship between the congregation and the new pastor. This relationship is greatly enhanced with proper communication of mutual expectations at the very beginning of the association. Clear communication between the pastoral candidate and the assembly is addressed throughout this manual with some practical tools to assist in various ways.

A carefully articulated and recorded "working understanding" will lead toward a fruitful long-term working relationship for years to come. A shift away from a low relational commitment between a pastor and the church, to a high relational commitment, is urgently needed in the North American church scene today (eg: dating mentality versus marriage mentality). Jesus' message rings true today when He said that it is our love for each other which will be the proof of our being His (effective) disciples. If this is a conscious and specific goal of the Pastoral Search Committee and candidate, the foundation will have been soundly laid for a good ministry together.

Consideration must be given for the District Officers who put in many long hours in meetings and travel. It is helpful for the local church and District Officials to bring as much consistency as possible to the transition process in the fellowship. If this is done, the resulting uniformity will enhance the effectiveness of the process.

Finally, the purpose of the manual is to help bring about "focused prayer". Much prayer is needed to prepare the hearts of all involved. This manual addresses this need throughout the process.

2.0 INTRODUCTION

2.1 A Spiritual Endeavour

At a congregational meeting, church members were called to vote right after the pastor finished preaching "A Call"; a person spoke up and asked, "Can we not just leave this up to the Lord?" This sentiment, in varying degrees, is shared by many who are a part of the Church and God's work. We know that the Lord is the "Chief Shepherd", we also know that we are to "occupy" and labour until He returns. The question arises as to, what we are to do, and what He is to do in the ministry of the Church.

In Acts 15, the fledgling Christian Church was facing a doctrinal crisis. The leaders of the church assembled and listened carefully to the testimony of those holding various views. In the end, this body of believers issued a statement which said, "It seemed good unto the Holy Ghost and to us..." (Acts 15:28). As they waited on God, He guided them to the proper consensus.

This reinforces what we experience today in the work of our God. We present ourselves to God and submit to Him, seeking the direction of the Holy Spirit. We believe that if the Holy Spirit is leading us, then He will have little difficulty in bringing His will to fruition. Where we err is when we rush off without listening and submitting to the Holy Spirit, go and do the work, and then ask God to bless it. As we press toward this important task of selecting a candidate to present to Christ's Church for confirmation, let us seek His direction. Not only do we seek God to bless our decision, but we also seek God to effect the right process and decision.

The task of calling a new pastor is often arduous. We need to be patient with the process and be prepared to listen carefully to all the input and concerns from other members of the committee. Pray much for each other and let no meeting begin or end without prayer. The committee which has a commitment to each other and spends much time in prayer, will be a committee that will not only be successful but will also enjoy a wholesome and spiritually strengthening experience.

The following manual contains many suggestions, samples and templates that you can print to assist with the task at hand. Planning is important in every event in the church, crusade, missionary convention, etc. We must prepare well in order to be successful. The most important element of any work in God's kingdom is the leading of the Holy Spirit, to rely on forms and guidelines alone is pure deception. These tools will be helpful to the Pastoral Search Committee which has a deep commitment to being led by God through the process, and not rely on human resources and abilities alone. We are "workers together with God", let us do our part with due diligence.

2.2 Purpose of this Manual

Most people who serve on Pastoral Search Committees have either, never served on one before; or if they have, were likely never given the opportunity to have instruction on how to best approach their task. Those who have been selected by their assemblies to serve in this capacity are those who may have natural discernment and communication abilities, but often experience frustrations from a lack of procedural information and tools to properly do the job.

The purpose of this manual is to give some guidance in the process with the help of some practical tools. Included in the manual are sample forms, letters, and agendas which can be copied and used, or modified to develop customized forms specific to your assembly.

Some sections in this manual will outline the benefits of performing each exercise. Main reasons for the suggested methods are as follows.

2.2.1 Pastor Experience

This manual is the accumulation of many Pastoral Search Committee's efforts to fulfill their mandate in the best way possible. Procedures that have been successful for many years, have been compiled for the benefit of us all. It is the purpose of this manual to be an effective and efficient tool for Pastoral Search Committees. If your committee has any helpful suggestions or ideas, please submit them to the District Office.

2.2.2 Good Relationships

It is the goal of every Pastoral Search Committee to call the pastor which God desires. Secondly, each committee wants to make the church-pastor relationship workable for many years to come.

The intention of this manual is to address some of the areas of church-pastor relationships which are best examined at the beginning of the association; thereby, reducing the occurrence of misunderstandings which has often resulted in the early termination of what could have been an otherwise good ministry relationship.

3.0 SAYING GOOD-BYE TO THE OUT-GOING LEADER

Perhaps there is no relationship outside of the immediate family in which one becomes so involved at a personal level, as the relationship of a pastor and his congregation. The pastor has led many to faith in Jesus Christ, counselled people in difficult times, visited them when they were sick, married them, dedicated their children, and buried their loved ones.

There is a trauma in the church when the under-shepherd says, "I am leaving". Church members, personal friends, ministerial colleagues, and especially young persons (who grew from children to adults while this pastor was there), all suffer loss. Grieving is seen to be a natural and normal process of resigning for both the pastor and people. It may be even more difficult for the pastor's spouse and children.

Other Reactions to the Resignation:

Anxiety, Fear, Panic:	This comes from the thought that the church may be without direction.
Guilt and Self-Doubt:	Guilt can be felt over criticism one may have made against the pastor that may be causing the pastor to move. Persons can experience self-doubt in the same way that a child may feel partly to blame for the death of a parent.
Anger:	This may occur especially if the pastor leaves under negative circumstances. Anger is often turned on persons who are perceived as the "ones who made pastor leave"; hence, leaving deep scars.
Understanding and Self-confidence:	It appears that mature people, though sorry to lose a minister, may see it as the pastor's "graduation" to a new and perhaps greater opportunity.

All of these are natural reactions. What is important, is for the leaders and congregation to be aware, express, and deal with the emotional process which many go through before the church is ready to embrace a new pastoral relationship.

3.1 Some Hints to Help Bring Closure

- Have a banquet where humorous skits and eulogies can be presented.
- Encourage individuals and/or families to submit notes or letters of appreciation to be presented to the pastor and family.
- If there has been difficulty in the assembly leading up to the resignation of the pastor, consider having an interim pastor for a few months to prepare the way for a healthy church-pastor relationship.
- Many suggest that in any situation, a minimum of three months is needed between the last Sunday of the exiting pastor and first Sunday of the new pastor. This allows time for the congregation to emotionally transition from the last pastor and begin afresh with a new pastor.

3.2 Conducting an Exit Interview

An exit interview is an informal dialogue between the local church board and their departing pastoral leader. These interviews are generally conducted in a neutral setting with the purpose of gathering vital information about the former leader's experience in the church. Exiting pastors are encouraged to be candid, as opposed to worrying about burning any relational bridges. Exit interviews are conducted using the format outlined in Appendix A. The primary purpose of exit interviews is to gather honest feedback about the vision, mission and current health of the church. While exit interviews can be very useful for both the outgoing leader and the church board, they are not mandatory and would only occur if both parties are willing. In the event of an unpleasant or problematical resignation, the District Superintendent may be invited to conduct the exit interview.

4.0 PASTORAL SEARCH COMMITTEE

4.1 Structure

4.1.1 District Involvement

The District Superintendent needs to be contacted immediately upon the resignation of the lead pastor of the assembly; this initiates contact, communication and a good working relationship with the District. It is recognized that each church "set in order" in the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada is autonomous; however, the credential holders within the fellowship are under the direct supervision of the various Districts. The Superintendent is in a key position to know particulars about various candidates which could be helpful. Churches designated as "Developing Assemblies" and churches for whom the District is a loan guarantor, are required to maintain a close working relationship.

The Superintendent is responsible for the spiritual leadership of the church between pastors. It is the responsibility of the Superintendent and/or appointed representative to supply vacant pulpits during the transition period.

Procedures in securing a new pastor (outlined in Appendix B), will be explained by the District Superintendent at the first meeting with the church board. In this initial meeting, the following items will be discussed:

- Examination of the church's constitution for any stipulations or guidelines unique to that assembly affecting the search and call of a pastor. The PAOC Recommended Local Church Constitutions and By-Laws are provided in Appendix AB.
- The church board will then appoint the Pastoral Search Committee and its chairperson and communication point person.
- After establishing the next date and time of meeting, a time of prayer and waiting on God will truly begin the process.

4.1.2 The Chairperson

Duties of the chairperson will be explained further in the following pages. The District Superintendent or his duly appointed representative is understood to be an "ex-officio" member and co-chairman of the Pastoral Search Committee.

4.1.3 Size/Composition

Quite often a church will miss the importance of this transition time by rushing prematurely to get a list of candidates to "get the job done". The first order of business is the selection of the Pastoral Search Committee. If this is done hastily, it could create some difficulties. Dingman¹ comments:

"When the search committee is formed, half the damage is already done. Too often the leadership of an organization responds too quickly to the news of a need for a new leader.

The three most common mistakes in selecting a Pastoral Search Committee are:

- Too large of a committee.
- Inadequate representation of ministries in the church.
- Choosing the wrong people for the position.

The model committee will be made up of five, six, or perhaps seven people. In most situations, five representative persons will constitute an effective committee. To represent the church and its needs, the committee requires individuals who are seasoned, steady, and regular members. These are people who are capable of ascertaining the overall condition and needs of the church rather than just representing a special interest."

Disadvantages of having the church board become the Search Committee:

- With the added pastoral responsibilities, it would create a monumental task if these members are asked to do both.
- Most boards tend to support and maintain past policies and can inhibit new directions and emphasis.
- "Blind spots" in the church's ministry can better be spotted by "fresh eyes" of a different committee.

Advantages of having the church board become the Search Committee:

- This elected body is already deemed capable by the congregation in matters of spiritual guidance and oversight.
- The committee is not in danger of "overstepping its bounds" in negotiations.
- The process is somewhat accelerated by being a "one decision making body", dealing with these actions.

The Search Committee may be comprised of the official church board and a couple of members of the congregation at large whose gifts and skills would benefit the functioning of the committee. A mixture of male and female on the committee is a valuable asset to the Pastoral Search Committee.

Where the church board is too large, a number of its members can serve on the Search Committee with other appointees. When this approach is used, most often the official church board will empower the Search Committee with full powers of negotiation on the behalf of the church.

The quality of the Search Committee members will most likely determine the crucial issue of subsequent performance; the length and quality of a person's church involvement is of vital importance. In particular, Search Committees need members who understand and know well the beliefs, structure, and practices of their church. Those who are relatively new to a church or denomination are not the best candidates because they have not yet gained the needed insights.

Qualities and Abilities Your Committee Members Need:

- Availability:* If the members of this committee, no matter how gifted, do not have the time to devote to this important task, they need to be passed over.
- Positive Attitude:* This is a spiritual exercise; you need people who live in confident faith. A person who always emphasizes the negative can frustrate the spirit of the committee.
- Discernment:* Those who can see past some of the initial issues and concerns, and bring deeper insight into the search and assessment process.
- Confidentiality:* This is of the utmost concern when selecting the committee. A person with a solid reputation of confidentiality is crucial.
- Strength:* You need strong people who are willing to grapple with some of the uncomfortable issues that surface and yet not dominate the process or intimidate others from being full participants in discussions.

4.1.4 Confidentiality

This is a matter of vital concern for your committee to discuss. Much damage can occur when members of the Search Committee divulge information that ought never be revealed or disclose information prematurely. The integrity of the whole committee can be compromised by one member's lapse in this matter.

Keep in mind that not only is your committee dealing with the ministry of your local church, but you are also dealing with the lives of pastors, their families and the ministries they are presently in.

Of the number of candidates you will contact, only one will be your new pastor. Do not leave the other candidates any hardships as a result of your contact with them. Treat the matter of confidentiality with great care.

If information "leaks" out that you are thinking of pastor "X" and is heard by their church, there can be great hurt and perhaps be instrumental to a premature termination of that ministry. Confidentiality does not mean that you should avoid regular reports to the congregation. You need to be clear about what information can be shared and what cannot. Names and specifics may not be shared, but the committee's progress may be shared.

4.1.5 Design of Operation

4.1.5.1 Individual and Subcommittee Responsibilities

It is vital to thoroughly discuss and record who will be responsible for various tasks. The following are some areas where decisions need to be made.

Duties of the Chairperson

Listed below are only suggestions of items that need consideration. It is not suggested that the chairperson be expected to perform all of these duties.

- Arrange all meetings (date, time and place), and notify all members.
- Be the contact person between the committee and the appointed District representative.
- Be the contact person for all candidates.
- Be the contact person for all references submitted by the candidates.
- Provide reports to the congregation on the progress of the committee.
- Host candidates when they arrive for an interview or to preach "A Call".
- Oversee/arrange for any socials/banquets for a "meet the pastor night".
- Oversee/arrange the farewell gatherings of the outgoing pastor.
- Be aware of any constitutional guidelines adopted by the assembly giving direction on the transition/voting process (see Appendix AB for the PAOC Recommended Local Church Constitution and By-Laws).
- Be aware of all compensation set by official church board (if the board is not the search committee).
- Be the continued contact person for the new pastor coming in.

Duties of the Secretary

- Keep all minutes of meetings.
- Receive and send all correspondences.
- Be the contact person for all candidates.
- Be the contact person for all references.
- Oversee the Church Analysis.
- Compile the Church Profile material.
- Distribute copies of all items of information to the Search Committee members (this enables them to acquaint themselves with it before the meeting in which it is to be discussed).
- Receive expense items from the committee and candidates and ensure reimbursement.

It is recommended that these responsibilities listed above, be delegated among the members with the understanding of how the task is to be done and when it needs to be completed.

Sub-committees can be created in order to handle certain tasks. Sometimes larger tasks are better dealt with by a group than by an individual; compiling church statistics is one example.

4.1.5.2 Record Keeping and Reports

Start a new file folder for each candidate with a "Process Summary Sheet" attached to the inside front cover (see Appendix N). When the various items are received or acknowledgment has been made, it is to be noted on this document. By following this procedure, the status of each candidate can be easily determined.

4.1.6 Communication with the Congregation

The committee can keep the congregation informed by various means; a notice in the bulletin, church newsletter, or verbally during a Sunday service. Some committees will have a letter in the mail on the Friday before the pastor gives his official resignation. The mail-out will answer a lot of questions and allay fears of those who may not have been in the Sunday service when the news was announced. In this letter, a schedule of meetings and a flow-chart of the process will be a good start to keeping the church informed.

4.2 Role and Purpose of the Pastoral Search Committee

4.2.1 The Charge to the Committee

McConnell² comments: "A rather frequent obstacle is the too busy or absent member with whom serious misunderstandings arise because that person has not been involved in crucial deliberations."

This raises the necessity for the Search Committee members to take the task entrusted to them seriously.

Here, personal agendas must be left behind and every effort must be made to have a unified body being guided by the Holy Spirit during the search process. A divided committee will be a major impediment in completing the search successfully.

4.2.2 Mission Statement

A brief Mission Statement should be drafted to clarify the reason for the committee's existence and give a mandate for action. See the Statement of Purpose (found on page 1) for a starting point.

² Theodore A. McConnell – "Finding a Pastor: The Search Committee Handbook" page 23

4.2.3 Constitutional Requirements

The local church constitution should be examined to see if there are some items which will affect the way in which a search is conducted. A typical example would be that some churches may have a stipulation that the vote held for a new pastor should not be held on the same day which the call was preached. To not know this, could result in some scheduling frustration and embarrassment. The PAOC Recommended Local Church Constitution and By-Laws is provided in Appendix AB.

4.2.4 Traditions

Be aware of some of the unwritten traditions of the assembly. Some churches will set time aside to do something special for its outgoing or incoming pastors. Contact with some long-term members of the congregation may be helpful.

4.2.5 Congregational Needs During Transition

Information of the process being used and periodic progress reports of the Search Committee, will need to be communicated to the congregation.

Secondly, considerable effort is needed to soothe the fear that some may feel that without a pastor, the church will fall apart while taking a number of weeks to complete a proper self-assessment and study.

Effort is also needed to focus on the spiritual life of the church, especially during worship times. This is an opportunity to bring in some special speakers and music. This need should not be a negative period in the life of the church but rather a real time of healthy introspection and growth.

There are pros and cons to having an "Interim Pastor" during this process. Interim pastors serve churches in transition to provide needed pastoral services in the absence of a lead pastor. Their services can include any or all of the following: pulpit supply, congregational care, short term administration, and supervision for other church staff. Dr. Virkler³ in his book "Choosing a New Pastor", has some good reasons for considering this route.

4.2.6 Focused Prayer

"Pastoral transition offers a time for genuine spiritual renewal through the congregation. It would be of great benefit to call the whole church to a time of prayer that focuses on the process of change. Perhaps a meeting once a week, or every other week could be arranged.

Leadership should seek to focus the prayer time on such things as:

- Seeking God's direction at each stage of the search process.
- Meeting the various congregational needs.
- Prayer for encouragement during this present and future adjustments.

³ Henry A. Virkler – "Choosing a New Pastors: The Complete Handbook" pages 74-75

The benefits of such a prayer time are many, however, one such benefit is to focus the attention of the church upon God and His leading throughout the process.” (Kennedy⁴)

To summarize the responsibilities, roles and duties of the Pastoral Search Committee as outlined in this section, it is recommended that a Terms of Reference shall also be provided to the committee. The Terms of Reference will provide the committee a quick reference to refer to. A sample is provided in Appendix C.

⁴ D. James Kennedy – “The Power of All Prayer”

5.0 DETERMINE IF A SUCCESSION PLAN IS REQUIRED

When the existing associate pastor expresses an interest in applying for the lead pastor's position or the board would like to consider an associate pastor as a candidate, a new set of dynamics will emerge during this transition period, which will require careful consideration.

5.1 Initial Stage

When considering the current associate pastor as a possible candidate for the lead pastor position, the church board shall decide whether to:

- a. Suspend the conventional search process, and engage a process of discernment, which determines the will of God regarding the succession of only one candidate, the associate pastor; or
- b. Invite the current associate pastor to submit their resume for the position of lead pastor and be considered as one candidate among many who may be assessed.

The church board shall call for congregational prayer, accompanied by times of corporate and individual fasting with the focus of discerning God's will in selecting the future lead pastor.

5.2 District Involvement

The District Superintendent shall be available to advise the church board when it is considering a succession plan; this initiates contact and a good working relationship with the District. The Superintendent is responsible for the spiritual leadership of the church during pastoral transitions.

At the first meeting of the church board and District Superintendent, the procedures for a successful succession plan (from associate pastor to lead pastor), will be reviewed (as outlined in Appendix D). At this initial meeting, the following items will be covered.

- Examination of the church constitution and policy manual, relating to the pastoral search process.
- The church board shall establish a Discernment Team and appoint its chairperson.
- Initiating congregational prayer and involvement.

5.3 Establishing a Discernment Team and Chairperson

The District Superintendent or his duly appointed representative is understood to be an "ex-officio" member and co-chairman of the Discernment Team.

The criteria in establishing a Discernment Team and Chairperson are similar to establishing a Search Committee as outlined in Section 4.0.

5.4 Information Gathering

A discernment questionnaire (sample provided in Appendix E), should be provided to the congregation for their feedback. The questionnaire will help the Discernment Team understand the congregation's perspective of the current Associate Pastor's:

- Suitability for the church's needs.
- Personal character.
- Core competency (including skills, abilities and spiritual giftedness).
- Ministry calling.
- Team chemistry (compatibility with the current leadership – laity and clergy).

The Discernment Team shall invite the congregation to complete the questionnaire and have them return it on the following Sunday.

5.5 Interview of the Associate Pastor

If, after receiving positive feedback from the congregation, the Discernment Team shall arrange for an interview with the Associate Pastor.

The Discernment Team shall ask the associate pastor to submit an updated Vision and Mission statement before the interview.

5.5.1 The Setting of the Interview

The setting of the interview between the Discernment Team and the associate pastor shall be either formal or informal.

5.5.2 Every Member Involvement

Some of your Discernment Team members will be less verbal than others, so make every effort to accommodate each member's strengths, and yet have every member involved as much as possible.

5.5.3 Questions to Ask the Candidates

Avoid having one designated person ask all the questions. Each member should be assigned a topic in which they may ask all the questions; others from the committee may feel free to ask supplemental questions in any area.

In Appendices V, W and X are three separate lists of sample questions that can help outline your questions to ask the current associate pastor.

5.6 Negotiations

Refer to Section 10.0 for information on various negotiation topics.

5.7 Confidentiality

This is a matter of vital concern for your committee to discuss. Gossip and hearsay may cause damage to the church when members of the Discernment Team divulge information that should not be revealed or prematurely disclosed to the congregation. The integrity of the whole Discernment Team can be compromised by one member's lapse in this matter.

5.8 Congregational Meeting

An informal congregational town hall meeting (eg: a dessert night) should be planned to give an opportunity for the Discernment Team to provide an update on the process and to answer any questions and/or concerns. It is optional for the current associate pastor to preach for "The Call". A sample agenda for the meeting is provided in Appendix F.

5.9 When to Take the Vote

A duly called business meeting should be arranged in accordance with the congregation's constitutional requirements for a duly called business meeting for the purpose of electing a pastor. The PAOC Recommended Local Church Constitution requires a two week advanced notice of a congregational meeting. It may be decided by the Discernment Team to vote the same evening on which the town hall meeting was held. The benefits in voting the same day are as follows:

1. People have been encouraged to pray through this whole process and are now prepared spiritually to vote.
2. It takes the pressure off the congregation by voting the same day.
3. It gives less opportunity for human interference of "politicking", for or against. It is wise to leave such things in the hands of the Spirit as He moves in the hearts of His people.

5.10 Appointment and Extending of the Call

The election and appointment of a lead pastor is subject to the PAOC Local Church Constitution which requires a minimum two-thirds majority of the ballots cast by the official voting members of the assembly.

5.11 Acceptance of the Call

If the associate pastor has been selected and accepted the call as the new lead pastor, it is to be agreed on how and when the team will make the announcement. Any salary negotiations should be finalized before the announcement.

5.12 Installation Service

The installation service of the new lead pastor is a significant event in the life and ministry of both your church and pastor. The installation service can be an important opportunity to publicly affirm and clearly identify that the associate pastor has been selected by the church's members as their new lead pastor. This will also provide an opportunity for the congregation and new lead pastor to make new commitments to each other.

6.0 CHURCH

6.1 Congregational Self-Study

Virkler⁵ states in his book, “There are several reasons why most congregational churches...don’t do a self-study in preparation for calling a pastor. First, some churches have never heard of one; second, if they’ve heard of such a thing they don’t see the value of conducting one; and third, they’re in a mild panic that if they don’t get a new pastor quickly, people will quit coming, tithes and offerings will decrease dramatically, and probably the church will go into receivership.”

A committee can not truly know what they are looking for in a new leader until they pause and have a careful and prayerful look at the church.

Too often the leaders of churches are so busy keeping the mechanics of the ministry going, that the assessment of the overall ministry of the church in relation to its mandate from Christ, is quite limited. This time of introspection is usually overdue.

6.1.1 Reasons for a Self-Study

Virkler⁶ provides the following explanation on performing a self-study:

- “It includes the whole congregation in the process and thus increases ownership of the new pastor/ministry.
- It is easier to assess the compatibility of candidates to your church and community.
- What kind of pastor will challenge us to grow?
- Do we have programs at present that need to be redirected?
- The self-study will motivate people to a greater degree to become involved in the ministry of the church.
- Each member of the committee may have preconceived ideas of what the church needs and assume that the other members of the committee share the same. Misunderstandings arise when this misconception erupts later on when the candidates are being considered.”

The self-study should include:

- Current needs of the church.
- Anticipated needs in the next five to ten years.
- Situations not being adequately addressed right now.
- Vision for various ministries.

⁶ Henry A. Virkler – “Choosing a New Pastors: The Complete Handbook” page 64

6.1.2 History of the Assembly

The history of the assembly is very important for self-understanding. Here the Search Committee can appoint some of its members to compile this history. The aid of non-committee members of the congregation can be very helpful in gathering information.

- a) Factual History: people, dates, events
If the church does not have a history pamphlet, it is a good idea to write one. It gives new church members an insight to the assembly and its traditions. This history of when the church began and past leaders, can also be quite helpful to your pastoral candidates.
- b) Ministry History: various emphasis of ministry
Whereas the general factual history is covered in the item mentioned above, you may also want to include a segment of the ministry history of your church. For example you might want to point out that in recent years the church has found themselves ministering more and more to young couples and less to Sunday School ministry. This gives a succinct overview of what the church has done in ministry over the years.

6.2 Ministry Analysis

A ministry analysis needs to start immediately and need not be overwhelming. It is suggested that a team created by the Search Committee, is comprised of one or two of its members, and other people from the congregation.

6.2.1 Programs Active in the Church

Each area of ministry that is officially under the auspices of the church, can be listed with a brief description if they are not self-explanatory.

6.2.1.1 Attendance

If attendance statistics are not available, ask a number of people who are involved in the area of ministry, for an estimate. Take the average of the various responses and reduce it by 10% and use that figure and indicate that it is an estimate. Make an effort to get as much of an idea as possible for the attendance for each department.

6.2.1.2 Assessment of the Past and Present Ministries

This is where your sub-committee can sit down with the leaders of the ministry departments and do an assessment of how the ministry has developed, is developing, and what the needs are for improvement.

It is important to give a careful eye of assessment and discernment to this area. The overall ministry health of the church is very crucial.

6.2.1.3 Financial Status of all Departments

Provide a brief note of the financial status of each ministry. This financial assessment will indicate to you and your candidates the health and priority given by the church to each ministry.

6.3 Congregational Self-Study

A general form to help with your self-study is provided in Appendix G. You may need or wish to customize this form to further suit your needs.

6.4 Church Profile

After compiling the results from the congregational self-study, a church profile will need to be created. This profile is usually less than two pages long. Included in Appendix H are two sample church profiles that you can refer to.

When you first contact candidates to see if they are interested in submitting a resume or a Pastoral Information Form (Appendix O, you need to include this church profile. This gives the candidates a small introduction as to who you are.

6.5 Pastor Profile

After you have looked carefully at your church's ministry needs and have pared down the abilities and qualifications that are a must in your situation, you are then prepared to draw up a Pastor Profile.

Here are two important points to consider when compiling the Pastor Profile:

1. Make sure that as a committee there is consensus on this matter. If you don't, it will lead to frustration later in the process.
2. Remember this is a good tool, but don't be rigidly bound to it. A candidate may come your way which may not fit the rigid guidelines of your Pastor Profile.

The value of the Pastor Profile is that it is a concise summary of your self-study results and what you may feel the Holy Spirit has been saying to you.

There are three samples found in Appendix I, to help guide you in preparing your Pastor Profile.

6.6 Feedback to Church Members

It is crucial in any transition to include the congregation as much as possible. If you invite the congregation to an information night where the results of the Congregational Self-Study are given, you can then ask for feedback on what your committee has developed as a Church Profile. This will enhance the sense of "ownership" each member will have in their church.

6.6.1 Who Are We?

When the congregation has a chance to interact with the overall ministry objectives of the church, they gain a valuable perspective of just how big the job really is. This can be helpful in encouraging members to get involved in church ministry.

6.6.2 Where Are We Going?

As a congregation there needs to be a sense of direction of where the church should be going. If you ask a new leader to come, they will need to know which direction you have been going and where you want to go.

7.0 JOB DESCRIPTION

When a Search Committee sits down to decide what kind of pastor they want, they have a tendency to want everything they can think of.

Each church has their own unique strengths and weaknesses; your task is to find someone who is capable of meeting the needs of your assembly. It is a fallacy to expect one person to have all the qualities related to the pastoral role and task.

Beware of asking for one person to embody all the talents and giftings which your church needs. Keep in mind that the church is a composite, the Body of Christ has many members to do the work of the ministry. What you need to look for are the key leadership abilities needed for your church.

For example, it is not reasonable to ask your ear to function as well as a thumb or ankle. Just because the ear is not an ankle or thumb, it does not mean it is not valuable.

Look for the right person to fill the role as pastor. Do not ask him or her to be something which they are is not (nor can be). God has someone who will fulfill the ministry leadership needed for your church.

To help determine which strengths should be considered a "must", the following aids are outlined in this section:

- Personal qualities.
- New Testament qualifications.
 - Outward disposition.
 - Inward disposition.
 - Christian experience.
- Pastoral Activities.

A sample Job Description is provided in Appendix I, to assist you in preparing your lead pastor job description.

7.1 Personal Qualities

When one examines the qualifications for church leaders given by Paul in his letters to Timothy and Titus, you will notice that most of the qualifying items are dealing with personal qualities rather than professional ability (I Timothy 3, Titus).

Review the Scriptural qualifications listed by Paul and spend some time reflecting on their importance in contrast to some of the more functional aspects of leadership.

While the basic qualifications expected of a pastor do not vary, the gifts a pastor needs to serve a church well will not be the same for every church. You will not find a perfect candidate to serve your church, but you can find the right candidate.

7.2 New Testament Qualifications

According to I Timothy 3: and Titus 1, here are some spiritual and character qualifications that every pastor should possess. It is interesting to note that all deacons/board members are required to have all the same qualifications with the exception of "able to teach".

7.2.1 Outward Reputation

- Has a good reputation even when his/her life is lived as an open book (I Timothy 3:2, Titus 1:7).
- Is well thought of, even by those outside the church (I Timothy 3:7).
- Is irreproachable in his/her marital relations (I Timothy 3:2, Titus 1:6).

In other words, a pastor is to be a person who has a good reputation in his/her church, in society, and in their own home. They must be a credentialed minister in good standing with the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada in their home district. They must also follow our fellowship's Statement of Faith and Ministerial Code of Ethics (provided in Appendices K and L).

7.2.2 Inward Disposition

- Is not selfish, quick-tempered, intemperate, violent, or overly interested in material things (I Timothy 3:3, Titus 1:7).
- Has a love for people, and for that which is good (I Timothy 3:2, Titus 1:8).
- Is sensible, mature, well-balanced, and self-controlled (I Timothy 3:2, Titus 1:8).
- Is Christ like, and devoted to God (Titus 1:3).

A pastor with the right kind of inner disposition should have the right attitude towards themselves, God, family, church, and should reflect Christian maturity.

7.2.3 Christian Experience

- Is not a novice (untrained), or new convert (I Timothy 3:6).
- Has proved himself/herself faithful, and able to guide others by managing their own household well. Should have believing and obedient children (I Timothy 3:4, Titus 1:6).
- Is a skillful teacher (I Timothy 3:2), and one who has been taught what is true and knows how to teach it to others (Titus 1:9).

7.3 Pastoral Activities

The Pastoral Activity form found in Appendix M, lists numerous pastoral activities. It is not humanly possible to require any one person to fulfill all these roles with outstanding ability, so pick the top six areas of ministry which you feel your church needs the most. Once you have picked these six, rate them in order of priority.

In the Church Profile (Appendix H), this assessment is carried further.

8.0 COMPILING THE LIST OF CANDIDATES

8.1 Sources

The first contact to make is with the District Superintendent. The Superintendent has a current list of credential holders and the various positions they are looking for. Knowing the churches and credential holders, it gives the Superintendent the ability to be very helpful in this area. Candidates who submit their resume directly to the District Office, are asked to complete the “Matching Ministers with Ministry” questionnaire (Appendix P). This questionnaire helps the District Superintendent match (as close as possible), the candidate’s suitability with your Pastor Profile.

It is recommended to use the District Superintendent’s office as a filter for all applications received by pastoral candidates. Applicants from other districts can be assessed through the Superintendents committee.

Note: There has been a trend to search for younger pastors in the 28-45 year old range with a marked exclusion of those over 55. This trend has now turned around. People recognize the need for the depth and experience of the mature pastor, especially where there have been recent difficulties in the assembly.

Do not overlook the pool of experience and maturity which this pastor can give your assembly.

8.2 Process Summary Sheets

The Process Summary Sheet is a small tool that will reduce some of the strain placed on the committee secretary and chairperson.

Keep each candidate's information and correspondences in their own file folder. The Process Summary Sheet (found in Appendix N), is to be stapled to the inside of the file folder. This summary sheet can assist you in remembering what needs to be done or not done thus far, in the process for each candidate.

When you receive the candidate’s information, record it on the sheet. Immediately the secretary should send a letter of acknowledgment, thanking them for it. Record that letter which has been sent on the summary sheet. This simple tool will help you keep track of what has been completed.

Sample letters of acknowledgement, consideration and rejection are provided in Appendices Q to T.

8.3 Screening the Candidates

The following procedures outline the over-all process of screening the candidates.

- Step 1: Compile List of Candidates
 Compile a list of candidates from the various sources. Make sure that all candidates and their resumes have been reviewed by the District Superintendent before contacting the candidates or their references. The reason for this is that the Superintendent may be aware of the candidate's strengths or weaknesses that may not be suitable for your church. This simple step may save a lot of work for the committee.
- Step 2: Choose 3-5 Candidates
 From the eight to ten names initially received, carefully read all the resumes/Pastor Information Forms, and spend time praying over each one. After much prayer, have each committee member write down their top three to five choices. Read section 8.3.1 for further explanation.
- Step 3: Conduct Reference Checks
 Before the candidates are invited for a first interview, their references will need to be contacted by the designated committee members. Before calling their references, review and photocopy the Telephone Reference Form provided in Appendix U. In conjunction with the provided form, prepare a list of what you want to know about your candidate's ministry style, personality traits, communication style and length of vision. Be careful to write down the responses of the references. These responses need to be copied and distributed to each committee member before the next meeting. Read section 8.3.2 for further explanation
- Step 4: Conduct first interview
 This is a "Getting To Know You" meeting with a light atmosphere - tour your church facilities, have a general time of fellowship, share the story of your church's life and faith. Before each candidate comes to the interview, the purpose and agenda of this meeting needs to be planned by the committee and explained to each candidate. They need to know if they are one of a number of candidates who will be interviewed over the next period of time and what the format of this meeting will be. Read section 9.0 for further explanation.
- Be aware that each candidate is asking themselves the same questions as you: "Can we work together? Does God want us to?"
- After this initial meeting, the committee will convene after a time of prayer and vote (just as before) for their first choice. This candidate will be invited back for a more in-depth interview. The candidates eliminated at this time will need to be notified and thanked (a sample letter is provided in Appendix T).
- Step 5: Conduct Second Interview
 This second interview is one of complete transparency. Each candidate will need to know what condition the church is in and what the committee, is looking for. This is a time of gaining understanding of each other's expectations in the area of ministry responsibilities, vision, accountability and salary. In addition to section 9.0, read section 10.0 for further explanation.
- Step 6: Gain Consensus on One Candidate
 At this juncture, after prayer and consideration, both individually and corporately, a vote will be taken to see if a clear choice emerges. It is important to gain consensus within the committee. If the committee is divided or a fair basis has not been established to ask a candidate to come and preach a call, the process will need to start over again.

8.3.1 Pastor Information Form and Resumes

Resumes can be very helpful and yet sometimes confusing especially for committee members who are doing this for the first time. To have each candidate complete the Pastor Information Form and/or Matching Ministers with Ministry Questionnaire (Appendices O and P), gives the candidates an equal footing in the eyes of the committee.

This will also save an amount of time for a busy pastor who has only enough time to complete the Pastor Information Form and send it to you.

The Pastor Information Form will also assist the Superintendent in processing the more uniform information going across their desk.

8.3.2 References

“Many Pastoral Search Committees fail to fulfill their mandate by not checking references which the candidate has supplied. Several things need to be kept in mind. First, the ones who are listed as references are most likely friends of the candidate and would not wish to hinder their chances to be involved in any ministry position. Secondly, people are fearful of legal repercussions if their comments were misrepresented. With these things in mind, be encouraged to do all your reference checks by phone. When speaking to a reference the first task is to assure him or her complete confidentiality. Nothing that they say will get beyond the committee or to the candidate without the reference’s expressed permission.” (Virkler⁷)

The work of checking references may extend beyond those provided by the applicant. References from a candidate’s former church or ministry may include support staff and other church leaders. Please do not contact reference from the candidate’s current place of employment without the candidate’s consent.

Assure the references you contact that they are not the only references given for this candidate. Once knowing this, they will not feel the candidate’s future is entirely in their hands.

“The telephone conversation includes a lot of communication which a letter fails to achieve. The confidence/hesitation or tone in the voice of the one giving the reference when responding to questions by the committee member can be a means to gaining a fuller understanding of the candidate in question.” (Virkler⁸)

A Telephone Reference Interview Form provided in Appendix U, can be helpful when speaking with the references. Remember to record your information, as it can easily be forgotten and not be communicated to the rest of the committee.

“When choosing those who will contact the references, pick one to three people who are skilled in expressing themselves well and have a disarming demeanor about them which can help the reference to loosen up and be candid with you.” (H. Virkler⁹)

“There need not be any threat to the process, if this is God’s man/woman for the task, the reference check will only substantiate this and strengthen the conviction of choice.” (Dingman¹⁰)

9.0 VISITS AND INTERVIEWS WITH THE CANDIDATES

9.1 Preliminary Considerations

9.1.1 Confidentiality in Contacting (Phone/Letters/Visits)

Confidentiality is very important and cannot be over emphasized. Too many committees have been too casual in this delicate matter.

Dingman¹¹ raises some important questions for your committee to ponder and also provides some good suggestions.

“Mechanics of confidentiality:

- i) Should mail be marked "Personal & Confidential"? Perhaps it ought to be sent to the committee member's office and not home?
- ii) Where will files be kept and who will be doing the typing and distributing the copies?
- iii) Should candidates be called at their homes or offices?
- iv) What should be said if a candidate's secretary asks the purpose of the call?
- v) When you visit a candidate's church to hear a sermon, what is the response to the friendly member who asks, "What brings you to be with us today?"
- vi) "Pillow Talk" is the greatest source of leaks. Perhaps your spouse may resent your inability to share with her/him the details of committee activities. This matter needs to be discussed at the beginning of one's tenure on the search committee.
- vii) Any negative material or sentiment which is part of the assessment process must be kept within the confines of the committee. Any vestige feelings must be dealt with and never divulged: especially if the candidate which one member may have had some misgivings about is the new pastor.
- viii) If a name gets revealed prematurely to the congregation it can precipitate some "campaigning" for or against the candidate.
- ix) Committee members need to be prepared with an encouraging answer for those who ask specific questions about the process and be congenial when questions are asked which cannot be answered.”

9.1.2 Time Allotments for Interviews

As you plan the interviews with each of your candidates, allow for extra time for questions that they may have.

Also keep in mind that the more information you have given to the candidates before the interview, the less time the interview will take.

¹¹ Robert Dingman – “In Search of a Leader: The Complete Search Committee Guidebook”

9.1.3 Expenses Incurred by the Candidates

It is the committee's responsibility to promptly reimburse (preferably the same day of the interview), the candidates for all expenses incurred in their dealings with you. Be generous, it goes a long way in displaying what your church's attitude is toward its pastors.

9.1.4 Communication with the Candidates

One of the most frequently heard complaints from individuals who are applying, is that search committees handle communications poorly and fail to keep them informed. Inquiries and applications deserve a prompt reply or acknowledgment. It is suggested to reply within one week of receipt of their resume, not two or three weeks later. As soon as a decision is made to pass over a candidate's name, the person should be informed and not kept in suspense. Sample letters are provided in Appendices Q and R.

If four weeks elapses and the candidate is still under active consideration they should receive a note informing them of the process. A sample letter is provided in Appendix S.

In telling a candidate that they are no longer being considered for the position, the letter from the committee ought to be appreciative of the person's time and wish them God's best in their future ministry. A brief reference of some positive qualities that the committee liked, would be helpful when making any further contact with the candidate a pleasant one. We need to make a conscious effort to treat people with as much courtesy as possible. (McConnell¹²) A sample letter is provided in Appendix T.

9.2 Telling the Candidate Who You Are

9.2.1 Transparency with the Candidates

The first interview is a time to get to know one another and to see if you want to proceed further. This interview will hopefully be spent in getting to know one another's "stories" of faith and the church.

When the second interview happens, it is a time to be fully transparent; it is to no one's advantage for issues to be "glossed over".

¹² Theodore A. McConnell – "Finding a Pastor: The Search Committee Handbook" page 50

9.3 Interview Techniques

9.3.1 A Planned Event

Know who is going to meet the candidate and their spouse and who will give them a tour of the community and church facilities. Prepare an agenda ahead of time and send it to the candidate so they will know what to expect.

9.3.2 The Setting of the Interview

Have an informal setting in someone's home where a candidate can be greeted and interact with comfortably. Avoid an interview where everyone is sitting behind a table and the candidate is asked to come in.

Do not go beyond one hour without having a refreshment break. If the candidate seems nervous, take a break and give everyone a moment to relax.

9.3.3 Every Member Involvement

Some of your committee members will be less verbal than others, so make every effort to accommodate each member's strengths, and yet have every member involved as much as possible.

9.3.4 Questions to Ask the Candidates

Avoid having one designated person ask all the questions. Each member should be assigned a topic in which they can ask all the questions; others from the committee ought to feel free to ask supplemental questions in any area.

In Appendices V, W and X, there are three separate lists of sample questions. The first list (Appendix V) will be most applicable to the first interview where the questions will be more personal. Perhaps there are things which the reference checks have twiggged your interest or concern and you would like to follow up on them.

The second list (Appendix W) is geared to the mechanics of ministry and will be useful in the second interview.

The third list (Appendix X) contains questions which will perhaps be in the mind of a candidate when they come for their interview. The more information you provide to the candidate ahead of time, will greatly enhance the interview process for the candidate and yourselves. If you spend some time reflecting on this last list of questions it will generate some valuable insights for the ministry in your church, now, and in the future.

9.4 Visiting the Candidates

The committee may feel they would like to see the candidate in the setting in which they are currently ministering. This is a preliminary visit whereby the candidate's preferences and interests can be explored.

Covert Visits

McConnell¹³ raises some concerns on covert visits:

“Does the whole group go? A good candidate can be vetoed by the one committee member who wouldn't have been rejected by the whole perhaps? It could be the other way too, the candidate could be promoted prematurely.”

When preparing for the visit, inform the candidate of who you are, the purpose of the visit and where you are in the process. (You ought to state whether you are focusing in on one or more candidates and when this phase will be completed).”

9.4.1 Confidentiality

There is a need for confidentiality and sensitivity when visiting the candidate's church. Gossip, embarrassment and resentment are the result if the purpose of the visit became known to the candidate's church. An inauspicious entrance, seating arrangement and exit is called for.

9.4.2 Sermon Evaluation Method/Form

A sermon evaluation form (copied by permission), from Virkler's¹⁴ book, is provided in Appendix Y. This evaluation form highlights the various aspects of a sermon's content and delivery. Another good resource to read is a book by Achtemeier¹⁵ which offers a more in-depth explanation of conducting a sermon evaluation.

10.0 NEGOTIATIONS

10.1 What Should Be Covered?

“A common reason for the souring of pastor-congregation relationships is the failure to meet each other’s expectations. Two of the most common reasons that a pastor fails to meet the congregation’s expectations are that 1. the congregation never communicated expectations clearly or 2. the congregation’s expectations were unrealistic.” (Virkler¹⁶)

There are then two areas where much consideration needs to be given by the leadership of the church: the duties and responsibilities of the pastor, and financial matters.

10.2 Get It In Writing

“There are many opportunities for verbal understandings to become distorted in a person’s memory and for verbal agreements not to be passed along to the appropriated person or committee. These situations can easily take the joy out of a positive beginning.

One denomination has each party (after they have come to a satisfactory agreement) sit down and write a complete description of the agreement as they understand it and send it to the other party. Any discrepancies are discussed and finalized.” (Virkler¹⁷)

10.3 Ministry Expectations

The fast pace of life in North America has been the downfall of many well intentioned Christians, and pastors are no exception. When pondering the role and expectations you have of your future minister, consider carefully the need for their own spiritual and family well-being, and the time requirements of such. Most people have little insight as to the role of the pastor.

In Dingman's¹⁸ book, there is an example of a typical work week for a pastor. Also, on page four of the Church Profile Form (Appendix G), is a worksheet that can be most helpful in gaining an understanding of the pastoral work load.

It is advised to have the final candidates complete a similar form to see if the way they divided up their time matches the expectations of the Search Committee.

The area of "Role Expectations" has been the center of many congregation-pastor conflicts. Careful consideration and discussion on this topic will be a tremendous boost to the quality and longevity of their working relationship.

One candidate, in the midst of an interview asked the question, "How many hours do you feel your pastor ought to work in a week?" One member of the committee burst out with agitation, "You have been in the ministry long enough that you should know that!" This kind of response indicates a significant problem. There are many different opinions of how many hours are appropriate for the local pastor to work. Wise church leaders will sit down and discuss this to gain as much of an understanding of the pastor's unique role as much as possible.

¹⁸ Robert W. Dingman – “In Search of a Leader: The Complete Search Committee Guidebook”

The following factors need to be considered.

- The amount of administration time; it has dramatically increased in the last few years (any treasurer will confirm this).
- The increased pressure on families in our culture has resulted in the sky-rocketing marital dysfunction and failure. The counselling load of most pastors has increased at about the same rate and is now consuming a larger amount of the pastor's time.
- The average age of North Americans has increased, and with it there are more people in churches who are older and needing special care.
- The size of most churches over the last number of decades has steadily increased the number of people to be ministered to.

It has become increasingly difficult for pastors to maintain the “pastoral presence” among the people in their homes. The fact that many homes where both spouses are working, has relegated the “pastoral visit” to occur in the evenings. Also, the addition of more programs in the church that occur during the evenings, have compounded the problem.

With these factors in mind one can see the shift in church life. There has been a sad parallel to this same time period with the "emotional burnout" rate increasing among pastors. It has been estimated that 50% of all pastors reach a point of emotional burnout by the fifth year of their ministry. Another sad statistic suggests that 80% of all pastors permanently leave pastoral ministry before retirement. The main reason is related to not being able to "meet the overly high expectations in the minds of some people". At times, it is the pastors who have the overly high expectations of themselves.

The recommendation is that most pastors should not work more than 55 hours per week. The emergencies and calls which often detract from personal and family time often push the total much higher.

Candidates and committees need to discuss what is to happen when, due to unplanned ministry demands, the normal work is not done (and it happens regularly). Is the pastor and their family to be the ones to pay the price of meeting all the needs or is there a working "eldership" to minister to the congregational needs as well?

10.4 Pastoral Remuneration

“Anyone who receives instruction in the word must share all good things with his instructor.” (Galatians 6:6 NIV)

“The area of financial remuneration is often the most uncomfortable item in the candidate-committee relationship. Often, either in the short-term or long-term there can be confusion and feelings. Regardless of the discomfort, if there is a determination to begin a solid, long-term relationship between Church and pastor, there needs to be transparency on the views on this vital subject. Differences on the subject of compensation are often not dealt with properly because the "true" feelings of one or more parties are not talked out.

Because of the position of the committee, (being the one offering the compensation) it would be Christian charity to pursue the feelings of the candidate on his/her feeling of that, which is being offered.

It becomes difficult and sometimes impossible for some candidates) to question an area of compensation. Again, the committee ought to be appreciative of the candidate's position and solicit his/her response." (Dingman¹⁹)

A Financial Information Worksheet to help in these deliberations is provided in Appendix Z. It will be appreciated by the candidates who can get a clearly defined picture of the financial package.

10.4.1 Salary

There are a number of ways in calculating the new pastor's salary:

- Look at other comparable positions and their level of remuneration. The usual position can be compared to is a school principal.
- Compare the compensation package of other ministers in the same community.
- Consider the experience and educational qualifications of the candidates.
- Consider the financial ability of the assembly.
- The previous pastor's salary is often a starting point.

It is also a good idea to determine when and how salary reviews will take place. Will they be yearly? What criteria will be used? Who initiates the review, and who will conduct it? Is there a cost of living built automatically into the package?

A copy of the most recent PAOC salary survey and worksheet may be obtained from the District Office.

10.4.2 Housing

Most often the church provides one of two options for the pastor; a parsonage or the pastor receives a housing allowance and supplies his/her own home. Most pastors have lived on minimal incomes and do not have the resources to supply a down payment for their own homes. This presents a problem for them when retirement comes; they have no home of their own to live in.

The church over the years has been the landlord and the pastor has in essence paid rent to the church. The housing benefit is then deducted from the total stipend given to the pastor.

Many churches are recognizing this as a very real concern and have offered their pastor an interest free loan for a down payment for a house. This loan is to be returned at the termination of the pastor's ministry in the church. Ample consideration needs to be given to the cost of adequate housing and the percentage needed for a down payment to enable the pastor to secure a suitable home. A suggested loan agreement is provided in Appendix AA)

a) Parsonage

i) Repairs and Decoration

If the church supplies the parsonage there needs to be an understanding in writing to clarify the pastor's and church's responsibilities for bills and maintenance. Most assemblies consider it their responsibility to redecorate the parsonage before a new pastor moves in and try to accommodate the preferences of the new family. An understanding will need to be made on what changes are permissible during the tenure and how often redecorating can and will take place and how it is to be paid. If a plumber or electrician has to be called, who pays for it?

An understanding needs to be established of how often an inspection of the church parsonage will take place and by whom.

"If there is a manse, the new pastor's wife can be contacted before the new paint and wallpaper and perhaps carpet is chosen. Decorating input from the family which has to live in the house is very important and appreciated. Make preparations as soon as possible so the new family moving in can be properly welcomed without a mess in the parsonage as they are trying to move in."
(Virkler²⁰)

These kinds of issues need to be established in writing to ensure a smooth working relationship for the years to come.

ii) Utilities

The utilities can be paid directly by the church, or a yearly stipend designated for this, is given to the pastor and he/she is then responsible for paying the bills. If the pastor is given an allotment to pay for the bills, it would be helpful to have the actual totals of these expenses for the past two full years. To have all of these figures will facilitate the negotiation of this item.

iii) Phone rental

If a parsonage is provided by the church, the phone rental costs are usually carried by the church. Long distance calls for ministry purposes are the church's responsibility and the personal long distance calls are the pastor's responsibility.

b) Housing Allowance

A stipend enabling the pastor to carry the expenses of their own home or to rent is an option many churches take. The committee needs to be aware of the current costs of rent and utilities to make sure that adequate compensation is given.

²⁰Henry A. Virkler – "Choosing a New Pastor: The Complete Handbook" page 171

10.4.3 Expenses

a) Moving Costs

Moving costs are to be covered by the church and consideration needs to be given whether movers will be used or just a truck rental. An old saying is worth noting at this point, "Five moves are as good as a fire". Quite often when the new pastor is asked to move themselves it may result in an accumulation of minor damages which, over a few moves becomes expensive in having to replace furniture. If the church cannot afford to hire movers, be generous in the moving expense allowance for the incoming pastor. This will help to off-set the long-term expense which the church transitions have produced.

b) Transportation Costs

Changing legislation in this area has resulted in significant confusion for pastors and church board. Due to the changing regulations and rates of reimbursements of mileage, it is recommended that the District Office be contacted for guidance in this matter.

c) Conference Expenses

Conferences are a requirement for each credential holder within the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada to attend. It is the church's responsibility to cover the expenses for their pastors attending the conference. Where this presents a financial hardship for the assembly, the District may be prepared to offer assistance by various limited means. Conference expenses ought to be part of the annual budget to help prepare for this expense ahead of time.

d) Resource Expense

Resources such as, books, CDs, DVDs, podcasts, periodicals, etc. are the pastor's tools in keeping astride with the current trends of society. One of the key roles of preaching the Word of God is to interpret life as it currently is in light of what the Bible says. A pastor who does not read and stay abreast with what is going on in today's world, will not be as effective in the pulpit as they might be.

e) Ministry Development

Many of the same things said above could be repeated here. Most denominations require their pastors to take a minimum two week study leave per year, with pay and contribute most of the cost associated with the course(s) taken.

Some churches view their pastor only in light of what they can get out of them. Church leaders need to be aware of the need and responsibilities of the church to nurture their pastors, personally, spiritually, and professionally. Invest in your pastor in these areas and you have invested in the church's long-term health.

f) Meal Expenses

Meal expenses should be covered when the pastor is carrying out the duties on behalf of the church. It is advised that this expense should be part of the annual budget.

g) Credential Fees

Any lead pastor of our fellowship should be credentialed with the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada. Fees associated with their credential license should be covered by the church. It is advised that this expense should be part of the annual budget.

10.4.4 Benefits

Retirement Plan: Disability Insurance: Life Insurance: Medical & Dental

One of the sad realities of the past is the lack of some financial planning by churches for pastors. It is advised that each assembly review its financial policies in these areas with the District Officers on a regular basis.

11.0 PREACHING "THE CALL"

11.1 One Candidate at a Time

“By presenting two or more candidates to be voted on, you are not giving either of them the committee’s full endorsement. No candidate would want to be voted on unless they started with the full support of the search committee.

By presenting two candidates to the congregation before a vote is taken you are making it mandatory that there will be a "loser". This method can unwittingly produce a tendency of candidates to "present" themselves more vigorously than what ought to be. No conscientious candidate would want to be a part of a "popularity contest".

The congregation is not as qualified to do in-depth assessments as the search committee. The committee is privy to a lot of material and interaction that the congregation as a whole is not.” (Dingman²¹)

11.2 Presenting the Candidate to the Congregation

How long should the candidate spend with the congregation?

“Probably a single sermon, or even a single day, is too short a time for a pastor and a congregation to interact enough to know whether their expectations of each other are compatible.” (Virkler²²)

Have him/her preach the Sunday morning and evening services. It is not necessary to have the candidate teach the Sunday school adult class and lead worship; this puts the candidate under more stress (on a stressful day) than what is needed. Most pastors will do enough singing when closing a service to demonstrate the fundamental ability of leading worship. Plan an informal gathering of the congregation over coffee after the service to give an opportunity for the candidate to interact with the congregation.

11.2.1 When to Take the Vote

Different congregation's constitutional requirements address when the vote is to be taken on the candidate who has "preached the call". The PAOC Local Church Constitution requires a two week advanced notice of a congregational meeting. Most congregations choose to vote the same Sunday on which the candidate preached the call. The benefits in voting the same day are as follows:

1. People have been encouraged to pray through this whole process and are now prepared spiritually to vote.
2. It takes the pressure off the congregation by voting the same day.
3. If the candidate is called to this assembly, it will be less time between the time when the call is preached and when they accept and resign in their present place of ministry.
4. It gives less opportunity for the human element of "politicking", for or against. It is wise to leave such things in the hands of the Spirit as He moves in the hearts of His people.

²² Henry A. Virkler – “Choosing a New Pastor: The Complete Handbook” page 161

12.0 ISSUING "A CALL"

12.1 Confidentiality

When a candidate has been selected, it is to be agreed upon how and when the committee will make the announcement. The candidate will need to notify their resignation to their board and congregation first, before the committee can inform the church. For a congregation to hear of their pastor leaving before it is officially given from the pulpit, can be the cause of some hard feelings and speculation.

The time between the “Acceptance” and “Announcement”, can be difficult to maintain confidentiality for some committee members. Remind yourselves of this important matter.

12.2 Saying Thank-You

When the "call" has been accepted and the announcement has been made, the other candidates need to be informed, thanked and released.

A word of encouragement to the unsuccessful candidates would be appropriate. A comment on some of the things the committee especially appreciated in them, would go a long way to alleviate any emotional letdown they may experience. A sample letter is provided in Appendix T.

13.0 WELCOMING THE NEW PASTOR

13.1 Anticipation

After the pastor and his/her family have agreed to come, it is time to consider their transitional needs. This precious family coming to you may be going through a grieving process in leaving their present home. The following are suggestions that can be of help:

- Have people in the church write down what they would want to know if they were moving to town (eg: phone numbers of a hardware store, newspaper delivery, recommended doctors, and phone numbers of people to contact for information and help).
- When this kind of contact is made with the pastor before he comes, there will be a good start to a bond being created and make the new pastor feel less of a stranger upon arrival.
- A loose leaf scrapbook filled with photographs of the church, parsonage, local schools, playground, shopping centres and two issues of the weekly paper can do wonders for the new family. A member of the congregation, who is interested in photography, would no doubt be quite happy to take some time to quickly assemble the book.

13.2 Moving Day

To assist the pastor and his/her family settle into their new home, listed below are some suggestions that are helpful and appreciated:

- Have some people at the pastor's new home when the moving van arrives to help unload.
- Have some people with the ability to help assemble beds and other furniture.
- Offer to help unpack and wash cupboards and dishes.
- Have a couple of casserole meals that the family can easily warm-up over the next couple of days while they settle in.
- Offer items that are usually not brought along such as honey, peanut butter, etc.

13.3 Installation

Make a "big deal" of the arrival of your new pastor. Remember, you have just lost one family when your last pastor left; the new pastor and family have just lost everyone they knew in their last pastorate. Remember as well, that most pastors and their families do not live close to their extended families and friends and are tied up on most weekends of the year and cannot visit those near and dear to them. You, the church, are the most significant people in their lives now and for the next period of time; so make them feel as welcomed as you can...use your imagination. Some churches recognizing that often there is a "grieving time" for the new family for their old surroundings and friends, have sent their new pastor and family away for a week holidays after they have moved in.

The installation of the new pastor is a significant event in the life and ministry of your church; make it a special time.

Introduce your new pastor and family by having a write-up in the local newspaper with pictures.

13.4 Transition Team (Facilitating the Pastoral "Start-Up")

People in crisis, styles and formats of services (eg: communion service), and where things are located, are just some of the critical items that the new pastor will not be aware of. Have the committee avail themselves to the new pastor for the first few months of ministry and by doing this, it can be a great help to the ministry of the assembly. This is especially true if there are no other staff members familiar with the overall operation of the assembly.

14.0 LAST ITEMS

14.1 Confidentiality

Candidate Information and History of the Search

“The files on the candidates, the minutes discussing the candidates need to be destroyed at this point. One very helpful last item that can be done is to compile a history of the process which has taken place. The names of the unsuccessful candidates are deleted for "A" candidate and "B" candidate. Using this method the account of how things were done can be a valuable learning tool for the next search committee that will be struck in the future.” (Dingman²³)

This summary report of the committee's work should be given to the church secretary for inclusion in the official church minutes.

Sample #3

The Psalms Pentecostal Church Anytown, BC Pastoral Search Profile

Mission Statement:

To be known in the community as a loving and caring people who welcome everyone just as they are, to join us in our journey toward a loving relationship with God the Father, our Lord Jesus Christ empowered by the Holy Spirit.

Scriptural Foundation: I Corinthians 13

¹ Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal. ² And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. ³ And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profits me nothing. ⁴ Love suffers long and is kind; love does not envy; love does not parade itself, is not puffed up; ⁵ does not behave rudely, does not seek its own, is not provoked, thinks no evil; ⁶ does not rejoice in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth; ⁷ bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. ⁸ Love never fails. But whether there are prophecies, they will fail; whether there are tongues, they will cease; whether there is knowledge, it will vanish away. ⁹ For we know in part and we prophesy in part. ¹⁰ But when that which is perfect has come, then that which is in part will be done away. ¹¹ When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things. ¹² For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I shall know just as I also am known. ¹³ And now abide faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

Pastoral Activity Priorities:

The following priorities were identified as we prayerfully thought about and discussed them:

1. Leading Worship
 - a. Worship is a vital part of our services as we love to express our love for the LORD in praise, singing contemporary worship songs and old time hymns (no strobe lights please), sharing what the LORD has done in our lives, speaking and interpreting of tongues and prayer.
 - b. Our ideal would be a Pastoral team that can lead and encourage our whole-hearted, corporate, Spirit-filled worship. Musical skills are a great benefit but we do have a wonderful praise team with talented pianists, guitarist and singers which we would like to build on and expand.
2. Pulpit Ministry
 - a. Ideally, our Pastor is passionate about sharing God's Word, not just in preaching but as a daily outworking in his life and teaching us how to apply God's Word in our daily lives in the real world we live in today.
3. Personal and Spiritual Development
(Providing resources and guidance for individuals in their devotional life, and for prayer groups, retreats and other small group experiences)
 - a. Identify the needs or issues of church members and match them with suitable resources to address them.
 - b. Encourage the fellowship of members outside of church for purposes of spiritual support and encouragement.
 - c. Encourage and build missional (everyone is a missionary) outreach approach

4. Program Development
(Establishing goals and organizing to create and implement programs in church and community)
 - a. Includes the activities of evangelism, leadership development and stewardship.
 - b. Initiate and encourage others in the growth of their leadership abilities.
 - c. Support and encourage the development of programs from a variety of sources.
5. Inter-Church Cooperation
(Working in inter-denominational programs or activities)
 - a. Working in partnership with the city Ministerial Association to reach out to the Community, such as jointly bringing in Watoto Children's choir, Meals on the Mound, Samaritan's Purse Christmas Shoeboxes, Palm Sunday services and practical acts of love in the community
6. Administration
(Managing the affairs of the congregation and its organization)
 - a. A working knowledge of business administration and financial matters.
 - b. Oversees the general administration of the church and ensure that all obligations are met.

As our present profile shows, most members and adherents are in the fifty plus year category. There is strong desire to grow our church by bringing in younger generations to ensure the continuation of the Church, and that from that growth Youth and Sunday School programs are developed. (A number of years ago our church was involved in a Youth Pastor training program and the desire is to move towards such a focus again.

There will be opportunities for meeting in homes, visiting the sick, helping people in crises, and we hope the Pastor will embrace these opportunities to serve and get to know the members better.

We know that the Lord has the perfect plan to bring us together. Please seek God's leading prayerfully as we will too be praying for God's choice to be revealed.

The Parties hereto agree with each other as follows:

1. The Pastor acknowledges borrowing from the Church and the Church acknowledges lending to the Pastor, the sum of $_____.
2. There will be no interest accruing on this loan as long as the Pastor is actively employed by the Church as (one of) its pastor(s).

In this Agreement, the date of termination of employment is referred to as the "Due Date".

3.1 SELECTION OR APPOINTMENT OF PASTOR’S COUNCIL: To inaugurate the Pastor’s Council, the pastor will appoint the first council member. Then the pastor and the first council member will appoint the second council member. Then the pastor and two (2) council members will appoint the third council member.

3.1.1 All subsequent council members will be appointed by the Pastor’s Council. Any exceptions to this procedure would require the involvement of the District Superintendent or a representative(s).

3.1.2 All members of the Pastor’s Council will be presented at the annual congregational business meeting

3.2 VOTING: When the church congregation is voting on business matters, a definite voting bar shall be made between those who are entitled to vote and those who are not so entitled. A member of the congregation wishing to challenge the right of another to vote may do so. In the event of such a challenge, a majority vote of the congregation shall decide.

3.3 APPOINTED OFFICES: It shall be the duty of the newly elected [leadership] to fill all appointed offices for the ensuing year without delay.

3.4 ORDER OF BUSINESS: The regular order of business for the annual congregational business meeting of this local church shall be determined by the pastor and [leadership] which may include such items as:

- Report of treasurer

3.5 QUORUM: Twenty-five (25) percent of the voting membership shall be required to constitute a quorum. Those members who by reasons of health are unable to regularly attend church meetings may be omitted from the quorum calculation.

3.6 PARLIAMENTARY ORDER: In order to expedite congregational business meetings this local church shall be governed by the spirit of Christian love and fellowship and by the accepted rules of parliamentary procedure as outlined in Robert's Rules of Order, or Code Morin.

BY-LAW 4 DEPARTMENTS: All departments of this local church shall be responsible to the pastor and the [leadership], and shall present annual reports to the annual congregational business meeting.

BY-LAW 5 MEETINGS

5.1 REGULAR CHURCH SERVICES: The time and place of the regular church services shall be determined by the [leadership] and the pastor.

5.2 No member or any number of members shall call any private, secret, business or devotional meetings without the knowledge and consent of the [leadership] and the pastor.

BY-LAW 6 DISCIPLINE AND RESTORATION

6.1 NATURE AND PURPOSES OF DISCIPLINE: Discipline is an exercise of scriptural authority for which the local church is responsible. The aims of discipline are that God may be honoured, that the purity and welfare of the local church may be maintained, and that those under discipline may be brought to repentance and restoration.

Discipline is to be administered for the restoration of local church members, while fully providing for the protection and advancement of the spiritual welfare of our local churches. It is to be redemptive in nature as well as corrective, and is to be exercised as under a dispensation of both justice and mercy. The following shall be proceeded with only after all other avenues of Christian counsel and brotherly admonition have been attempted.

6.2 CAUSES OF DISCIPLINARY ACTION: Any proven act or conduct which, in the opinion of the [leadership], after a full investigation of the evidence may be determined to be in contradiction of the actions and principles as stated in Article 6.1 of the Local Church Constitution and By-Laws may give just cause for disciplinary action by the [leadership]. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, among such causes for action shall be:

6.2.1 Any moral failure involving sexual misconduct or sexual deviation (including, but not limited to adultery, homosexuality, incest, sexual assault, pornography and improper contact with the opposite sex).

6.2.2 Any moral or ethical failure other than sexual misconduct or any conduct unbecoming to a local church member (including, but not limited to deception, fraud, theft and assault).

6.2.3 Any act or action of a local church member, which is the cause of serious discord or dissension, with or without malicious intent (Romans 16:17, 18; Proverbs 6:19).

6.2.4 The propagation of doctrines and practices contrary to those set forth in the Statement of Fundamental and Essential Truths of The Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada.

6.3 INITIATIVE

6.3.1 AUTHORITY: Occasions sometimes arise which make it necessary to deal with local church members who have reached the place where, in the opinion of the [leadership], endorsement can no longer be given. The [leadership], which has the authority to approve church membership, also has the right to withdraw their approval and to dismiss church membership.

6.3.2 [LEADERSHIP] RESPONSIBILITY: The [leadership] is responsible to deal with allegations of misconduct according to the Local Church Constitution and By-Laws.

In the event that the [leadership] finds itself compromised in any manner, or appearing to lack impartiality, it shall have the right to appoint a substitute committee to hear charges against a church member.

6.3.3 STATEMENT OF CONDUCT: Should a local church member admit to, or confess to a wrongdoing or misconduct to the board, such as should require disciplinary action, then the [leadership] shall exercise discretion as to the appropriate form of discipline.

6.3.4 REPORTS, RUMOURS OR COMPLAINTS: Should there be reports, rumours or complaints, written or unwritten, which appear to be persistent, serious, becoming publicly known and posing a detriment to the testimony of the individual or church, then the pastor shall use their judgment to discuss the matter with the member being accused, always in the presence of a member of the [leadership]. The pastor and [leadership] member shall exercise their discretion as to whether or not to commence an official investigation.

6.3.5 INVESTIGATION OF REPORTS OR COMPLAINTS OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS: Written and signed allegations of violations under By-Law 6.2 by a local church member shall be investigated. The pastor shall appoint two (2) members of the [leadership] to investigate the allegation, having in mind that it is their responsibility to safeguard the member, the local church and the fellowship. This shall be done to determine the credibility of the allegation.

6.3.5.1 Signed written allegations shall be filed with the Pastor and/or a member of the [leadership], by the complainant(s) describing the alleged violations.

6.3.5.2 The persons making the allegation shall be interviewed in order to ascertain the facts in the case and the reasons underlying the allegation.

6.3.5.3 The accused local church member shall be given an opportunity to be interviewed to discuss the allegation.

6.3.5.4 Should a local church member, when presented with the allegations, acknowledge a wrongdoing that requires disciplinary action, then the Pastor or the Pastor's designate shall report the acknowledgment of wrongdoing to the [leadership] who shall initiate appropriate disciplinary action and a restoration program.

6.3.5.5 Should the local church member deny the allegations made, the investigators shall determine if the evidence merits a disciplinary hearing.

6.3.5.6 Where an accused local church member serves in a leadership capacity in the local church, such ministry may be restricted during the investigation at the discretion of the Pastor.

6.3.6 LEGAL CHARGES

6.3.6.1 Where a local church member has been legally charged under the Criminal Code of Canada:

6.3.6.1.1 No disciplinary procedures will be followed until the legal proceedings, including appeal, have run their course.

6.3.6.1.2 Continuing involvement in the local church leadership may be subject to restriction during the time of the legal proceedings at the discretion of the [leadership].

6.3.6.1.3 A guilty verdict of a local church member following the legal proceedings, including appeal, shall automatically precipitate disciplinary procedures by the [leadership].

6.3.6.1.4 Local church members may be eligible for participation in a restoration program upon request for reconciliation.

6.3.6.2 Should the allegations against the local church member be one of a violation which is required by law to be reported (including, but not limited to, offences against minors), the [leadership] shall report the accused to the appropriate legal authorities and delay their own investigation, until the appropriate legal authorities have opportunity to investigate.

6.3.7 PREPARATION AND FILING OF CHARGES: Allegations shall only be investigated when they have been made in writing, dated and signed by the complainant.

If, after due investigation, it is determined that a disciplinary hearing should occur, charges should be filed with the [leadership].

The person against whom charges have been filed shall be informed by registered mail of the charges at least 15 days before being called to appear before the [leadership] for a disciplinary hearing. The hearing shall take place within 40 days of formal charges being delivered to the local church member, or the entire proceeding shall be rescinded. A copy of the charges shall be sent to the District Superintendent.

The said local church member may be relieved immediately from local church involvement upon being notified of the charges.

6.3.8 DISPOSITION OF ALLEGATIONS

6.3.8.1 If written allegations are made and signed, but the investigators conclude under the guidelines of the Local Church Constitution and By-Laws that no reason exists for a hearing, then the matter shall be dropped.

6.3.8.2 The pastor, or the pastor's appointee, may seek to counsel all parties involved and to bring to an end any continuation of rumours or conflicts related to the matter.

6.3.8.3 The complainant shall be informed in writing that the investigation has been concluded and the allegations dismissed.

6.3.8.4 There shall be no record of the investigation kept.

6.3.8.5 The church member shall be informed in writing that the investigation of the allegations has concluded and no charges have been laid.

6.3.9 DISCIPLINARY HEARING: In the event the investigators find the charges merit a hearing they shall request the pastor to arrange for a disciplinary hearing by the [leadership] for the accused local church member. The local church member shall be requested to appear at the hearing.

To ensure the ability of the hearing committee to render an impartial judgment, no member of the [leadership] of the local church may sit on the hearing committee when they have been party to the details of the investigation or any event or incident related to the alleged offence.

The pastor may attend the hearing as an observer but shall not participate nor be present when a vote is taken in the decision as to guilt or innocence. The role of the pastor is to be redemptive to all parties involved.

If the accused local church member refuses to appear at the hearing to offer a defence, the hearing will proceed and the accused member may be disciplined if found guilty of the charges preferred.

6.3.9.1 CHAIR: A member of the hearing committee shall be appointed by the pastor to serve as chair.

The chair of the hearing committee along with the pastor shall prepare an agenda and arrange for all matters of the hearing.

The chair shall appoint a recording secretary from the membership of the hearing committee.

6.3.9.2 ROLE OF INVESTIGATORS

6.3.9.2.1 The investigators shall bring a report to the hearing and offer evidence as discovered during the investigation procedures.

6.3.9.2.2 They shall not participate nor be present when a vote is taken in the decision as to guilt or innocence.

6.3.9.2.3 No evidence or comment regarding the evidence shall be given by the investigators or accusers in the absence of the accused local church member, unless the accused local church member has failed to, or has refused to, appear at the hearing.

6.3.9.3 LOCAL CHURCH MEMBER'S SUPPORT: The accused local church member shall have the right to have a member of this local church present for support but not as an active participant in the hearing process. The supporting person may be the spouse of the accused local church member.

Legal counsel shall not be present for either side at the hearing.

6.3.9.4 The agenda and proceedings shall provide sufficient opportunity for the complainant and complaine to speak, offer evidence, cross examine, present witnesses, and to make a summation statement. It will be the role of the hearing committee to question and make inquiry of the participants and to seek to have all the facts, evidence and testimony duly presented and examined to ensure an objective decision.

6.3.9.5 The verdict shall be made by secret ballot in the absence of investigators, the complainant and the supporting member if present and the complaine. A two-thirds (2/3) majority vote shall be required to determine guilt.

6.3.9.6 If it has been determined that guilt has been established, discipline shall be administered prayerfully and in the fear of God, in accordance with the Scriptures and as set forth in the Local Church Constitution and By-Laws.

6.3.9.7 ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE VERDICT

6.3.9.7.1 The verdict shall be communicated to the pastor and placed in the minutes of the [leadership]. If the verdict is one of guilt, then the minutes of the hearing and any other relevant documents shall be maintained in a confidential file until the disciplinary process has been completed.

6.3.9.7.2 The pastor shall communicate the verdict in writing to the local church member and the complainant within five (5) days of the decision of the hearing committee.

6.3.9.7.3 If a guilty verdict is reached, the local church member shall be informed in writing of the right and process of appeal.

6.3.9.7.4 If the verdict is one of not guilty, then no record of the hearing shall be maintained.

6.3.10 DISCIPLINE: A local church member who has been found guilty of violating or who has confessed in writing to having violated any of the principles set forth in the Local Church Constitution and By-Laws, shall be subject to disciplinary action by the [leadership]. Said discipline shall be administered in brotherly love and kindness. The [leadership] shall weigh decisions on the basis of the offence itself.

A local church member who has confessed to, or been found guilty of, the charges may have their membership placed on probation, or suspended.

A local church member who refuses to enter the restoration program and does not complete the same shall have their membership dismissed.

6.3.11 RIGHT OF APPEAL: The local church member shall have the right of appeal. The purpose of the appeal is to examine the process and the judgment rendered.

Any appeal of the decision by the hearing committee must be made in writing within 30 days of receiving the decision of the committee to the secretary of the [leadership]. The [leadership] shall request the District Superintendent to appoint a committee to hear the appeal.

The appeal will be heard within 60 days of receiving the request for an appeal in writing.

The accused person will be present at this appeal, but if the accused person neglects or refuses to attend the hearing, it may proceed in the absence of the accused person. The decision of this appeal committee will be final.

The decision of the appeal committee will be communicated in writing to the church member by the chair of the appeal committee within five (5) days of the appeal hearing.

Legal counsel shall not be present for either side at the appeal hearing, nor in any other investigative or disciplinary hearing provided for in these by-laws.

6.3.12 RESTORATION: In the event a local church member who has been found guilty of offence shows repentance and indicates a desire for continued fellowship with the local church, the [leadership] shall determine an appropriate restoration program, which would have in view the completion of a suspension period or the reinstatement of membership as applicable.

The program of restoration shall be administered in brotherly love and kindness.

The restoration program may include limitations of ministry involvement during the term of restoration.

6.3.13 REINSTATEMENT OF MEMBERSHIP: Persons who have had their membership suspended and have successfully completed the restoration program may apply for reinstatement of membership by communicating their request to the secretary of the [leadership].

6.3.14 WAIVER OF CLAIM: Notwithstanding the provisions hereinbefore contained, certificates of membership of this local church shall be issued upon the condition that suspension of the member and withdrawal of the certificate of membership in the manner herein provided shall not give the suspended member cause for legal action against the pastor or any member taking part in the suspension proceedings; and the acceptance of the certificate of membership or fellowship in this local church shall be evidence of a waiver by the member of all rights of action, causes of action, and all claims and demands against the local church or any member or officer of The Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada by virtue of suspension proceedings and withdrawal of the certificate of membership or fellowship in this local church under the foregoing provision.

BY-LAW 7 RESPONSIBILITIES AND PRIVILEGES OF AFFILIATION

This shall be done in accordance with the General Conference resolution that each local church forward an amount equal to ten (10) percent of its general fund offerings (does not include missionary offerings, building fund, or any other special fund) to the district office at regular intervals to support the ministry and fellowship services. Statement of Fundamental and Essential Truths

Article 5 of the General Constitution and By-Laws Amended by General Conference, 2008

PREAMBLE

The Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada stands firmly in the mainstream of historical Christianity. It takes the Bible as its all-sufficient source of faith and practice, and subscribes to the historic creeds of the universal church. In common with historical, evangelical Christianity, it emphasizes Christ as Saviour and coming King. It also presents Christ as Healer, and it adopts the distinctive position that speaking in tongues is the initial evidence when Christ baptizes in the Holy Spirit. (See Article 5.6.3)

5.1 HOLY SCRIPTURES

All Scripture is given by inspiration of God²⁷ by which we understand the whole Bible to be inspired in the sense that holy men of God were moved by the Holy Spirit to write the very words of Scripture.²⁸ Divine inspiration extends equally and fully to all parts of the original writings. The whole Bible in the original is, therefore, without error and, as such, is infallible, absolutely supreme and sufficient in authority in all matters of faith and practice.²⁹

The Bible does not simply contain the Word of God, but is, in reality, the complete revelation and very Word of God inspired by the Holy Spirit. Christian believers today receive spiritual illumination to enable them to understand the Scriptures,³⁰ but God does not grant new revelations that are contrary or additional to inspired biblical truth.³¹

5.2 THE GODHEAD

The Godhead exists eternally in three persons: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. These three are one God, having the same nature and attributes and are worthy of the same homage, confidence, and obedience.³²

5.2.1 THE FATHER

The Father exists eternally as the Creator of heaven and earth, the Giver of the Law, to whom all things will be subjected, so that He may be all in all.³³

5.2.2 THE SON

The Lord Jesus Christ, the eternal and only begotten Son of the Father, is true God and true man.³⁴ He was conceived of the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary,³⁵ and by His sinless life, miracles and teaching, gave full revelation of the Father.³⁶

He died upon the cross, the Just for the unjust, as a substitution sacrifice.³⁷ He rose from the dead.³⁸ He is now at the right hand of the Majesty on high as our great High Priest.³⁹ He will come again to establish His kingdom in righteousness and peace.⁴⁰

5.2.3 THE HOLY SPIRIT

The Holy Spirit is also God, performing actions and possessing the attributes of the Deity.⁴¹ His personality is shown by the fact that He has personal characteristics and that individuals may relate to Him as a person.⁴²

5.3 ANGELS

5.3.1 CLASSIFICATION

Angels were created as intelligent and powerful beings to do the will of God and worship Him.⁴³ However, Satan, the originator of sin, fell through pride and was followed by those angels who rebelled against God. These fallen angels or demons are active in opposing the purposes of God.⁴⁴

Those who remained faithful continue before the throne of God and serve as ministering spirits.⁴⁵

5.3.2 THE BELIEVER AND DEMONS

Demons attempt to thwart God's purposes; however, in Christ, the believer may have complete liberty from the influence of demons.⁴⁶ He cannot be possessed by them because his body is the temple of the Holy Spirit in which Christ dwells as Lord.⁴⁷

5.4 MAN

Man was originally created in the image and likeness of God.⁴⁸ He fell through sin and, as a consequence, incurred both spiritual and physical death.⁴⁹ Spiritual death and the depravity of human nature have been transmitted to the entire human race⁵⁰ with the exception of the Man Christ Jesus.⁵¹ Man can be saved only through the atoning work of the Lord Jesus Christ.⁵²

5.5 SALVATION

5.5.1 ATONEMENT OF CHRIST

Salvation has been provided for all men through the sacrifice of Christ upon the cross.⁵³ It is the only perfect redemption and substitution atonement for all the sins of the world, both original and actual. His atoning work has been proven by His resurrection from the dead.⁵⁴ Those who repent and believe in Christ are born again of the Holy Spirit and receive eternal life.⁵⁵ Furthermore, in the atonement, divine healing was provided for all believers.⁵⁶

5.5.2 REPENTANCE AND FAITH

Man can be born again only through faith in Christ. Repentance, a vital part of believing, is a complete change of mind wrought by the Holy Spirit,⁵⁷ turning a person to God from sin.

5.5.3 REGENERATION

Regeneration is a creative work of the Holy Spirit by which man is born again and receives spiritual life.⁵⁸

5.5.4 JUSTIFICATION

Justification is a judicial act of God by which the sinner is declared righteous solely on the basis of his acceptance of Christ as Saviour.⁵⁹

5.6 THE CHRISTIAN EXPERIENCE

5.6.1 ASSURANCE

Assurance of salvation is the privilege of all who are born again by the Spirit through faith in Christ,⁶⁰ resulting in love, gratitude and obedience toward God.

5.6.2 SANCTIFICATION

Sanctification is dedication to God and separation from evil.⁶¹ In experience it is both instantaneous⁶² and progressive.⁶³ It is produced in the life of the believer by his appropriation of the power of Christ's blood and risen life through the person of the Holy Spirit;⁶⁴ He draws the believer's attention to Christ, teaches him through the Word and produces the character of Christ within him.⁶⁵ Believers who sin must repent and seek forgiveness through faith in the cleansing blood of Jesus Christ.⁶⁶

5.6.3 BAPTISM IN THE HOLY SPIRIT

The baptism in the Holy Spirit is an experience in which the believer yields control of himself to the Holy Spirit.⁶⁷ Through this he comes to know Christ in a more intimate way⁶⁸ and receives power to witness and grow spiritually.⁶⁹ Believers should earnestly seek the baptism in the Holy Spirit according to the command of our Lord Jesus Christ.⁷⁰ The initial evidence of the baptism in the Holy Spirit is speaking in other tongues as the Spirit gives utterance.⁷¹ This experience is distinct from and subsequent to the experience of the new birth.⁷²

5.6.4 THE GIFTS OF THE SPIRIT

The gifts of the Spirit are supernatural abilities given by God through the exercising of which believers are enabled to minister effectively and directly in particular situations.⁷³ They serve the dual function of building up the church and of demonstrating the presence of God within His church.⁷⁴

5.6.5 DIVINE HEALING

Divine healing provided in the atonement of Christ⁷⁵ is the privilege of all believers. Prayer for the sick and gifts of healing are encouraged and practiced.⁷⁶

5.7 THE CHURCH

5.7.1 THE UNIVERSAL CHURCH

All who are born again are members of the universal church, which is the Body and Bride of Christ.⁷⁷

5.7.2 THE LOCAL CHURCH

5.7.2.1 PURPOSE

The local church is a body of believers in Christ who have joined together to function as a part of the universal church.⁷⁸ The local church is ordained by God and provides a context in which believers corporately worship God⁷⁹, observe the ordinances of the church, are instructed in the faith and are equipped for the evangelization of the world.⁸⁰

5.7.2.2 ORDINANCES

5.7.2.2.1 THE LORD'S SUPPER

The Lord's Supper is a symbol, memorial and proclamation of the suffering and death of our Lord Jesus Christ. This ordinance of communion is to be participated in by believers until Christ's return.⁸¹

5.7.2.2.2 WATER BAPTISM

Water baptism signifies the believer's identification with Christ in His death, burial and resurrection and is practiced by immersion.⁸²

5.7.2.3 MINISTRY

A divinely called and ordained ministry is the provision of the Lord to give leadership to the church as it fulfills its purposes.⁸³

5.8 THE END OF TIME

5.8.1 THE PRESENT STATE OF THE DEAD

At death the souls of believers pass immediately into the presence of Christ,⁸⁴ and these remain in constant bliss until the resurrection of the glorified body.⁸⁵ The souls of unbelievers remain after death conscious of condemnation⁸⁶ until the final bodily resurrection and judgment of the unjust.⁸⁷

5.8.2 THE RAPTURE

The rapture, the blessed hope of the church, is the imminent coming of the Lord in the air to receive to Himself His own, both the living who shall be transformed, and the dead in Christ who shall be resurrected.⁸⁸ This event takes place before the wrath of God is poured out during the tribulation. Believers then will appear before the judgment seat of Christ to be judged according to faithfulness in Christian service.⁸⁹

5.8.3 THE TRIBULATION

The tribulation will be a time of judgment on the whole earth.⁹⁰ During this period the Antichrist will emerge to offer false hope to the nations.⁹¹

5.8.4 THE SECOND COMING OF CHRIST

The return of Christ to earth in power and great glory will conclude the great tribulation with the victory at Armageddon,⁹² the defeat of Antichrist and the binding of Satan.⁹³ Christ will introduce the millennial age,⁹⁴ restore Israel to her own land, lift the curse which now rests upon the whole creation, and bring the whole world to the knowledge of God.⁹⁵

5.8.5 THE FINAL JUDGMENT

There will be a final judgment in which the unbelieving dead will be raised and judged at the great white throne, according to their works.⁹⁶

The beast and false prophet, the devil and his angels, and whoever is not found in the Book of Life, shall be cast into the lake of fire, not to annihilation but to everlasting punishment, which is the second death.⁹⁷

5.8.6 THE ETERNAL STATE OF THE RIGHTEOUS

The righteous will share the glory of God in the new heaven and the new earth for eternity.⁹⁸

5.9 POSITIONS AND PRACTICES5.9.1 MARRIAGE AND THE FAMILY

Marriage is a provision of God wherein one man and one woman to the exclusion of all others enter into a lifelong relationship⁹⁹ through a marriage ceremony that is recognized by the church and legally sanctioned by the state.

Marriage establishes a "one-flesh" relationship¹⁰⁰ that goes beyond a physical union and is more than either a temporary relationship of convenience intended to provide personal pleasure or a contract that binds two people together in a legal partnership. Marriage establishes an emotional and spiritual oneness that enables both partners to respond to the spiritual, physical and social needs of the other.¹⁰¹ It provides the biblical context for the procreation of children.

Marriage is to be an exclusive relationship that is maintained in purity.¹⁰² It is intended by God to be a permanent relationship. It is a witness to the world of the relationship between Christ and His church.¹⁰³

Marriage requires a commitment of love, perseverance and faith. Because of its sanctity and permanence, marriage should be treated with seriousness and entered into only after counsel and prayer for God's guidance. Christians should marry only those who are believers.¹⁰⁴ An individual who becomes a believer after marriage should remain with his/her partner in peace, and should give witness to the Gospel in the home.¹⁰⁵

The Bible holds family life as a position of trust and responsibility. The home is a stabilizing force in society, a place of nurture, counsel, and safety for children.¹⁰⁶

Marriage can only be broken by porneia, which is understood as marital unfaithfulness¹⁰⁷ involving adultery, homosexuality, or incest. While the Scriptures give evidence that the marriage vow and "one-flesh" union are broken by such acts and therefore recognize the breaking of the marriage relationship, the Scriptures do recommend that the most desirable option would be reconciliation.¹⁰⁸

5.9.2 DIVORCE

We believe that divorce is not God's intention. It is God's concession to the "hardness of men's hearts."¹⁰⁹

We, therefore, discourage divorce by all lawful means and teaching. Our objective is reconciliation and the healing of the marital union wherever possible. Marital unfaithfulness should not be considered so much an occasion or opportunity for divorce but rather an opportunity for Christian grace, forgiveness, and restoration. Divorce in our society is a termination of a marriage through a legal process authorized by the State. While the Church recognizes this legal process as an appropriate means to facilitate the permanent separation of spouses, the Church restricts the idea of divorce, in the sense of dissolution of marriage, to reasons specified in Scripture.

The weight of the biblical record is negative and the explicit statement is made, "God hates divorce."¹¹⁰ Divorce is more than an action of the courts which breaks the legal contract between partners in a marriage. It is also the fracture of a unique human relationship between a male and a female. Divorce has profound consequences for the children. Divorce is evidence of the sinful nature expressed in human failure. Jesus gives one explicit cause for the dissolution of marriage: porneia or marital unfaithfulness.

Where all attempts at reconciliation have failed and a divorce has been finalized, we extend Christ's love and compassion.

5.9.3 REMARRIAGE

Remarriage is the union, legally sanctioned by the State, of one man and one woman, one or both of whom have been previously married. It is regarded as acceptable in Scripture in the event of the death of a former spouse. It is also regarded as acceptable if there has been sexual immorality on the part of the former partner or if the former partner has remarried.

5.9.4 TITHING

Tithing was divinely instituted by God under the old covenant and was compulsory upon the people who worshiped God.¹¹¹ Under the new covenant we are not bound by arbitrary laws; but the principles of right and wrong, as expressed by the law, are fulfilled in the believer's life through grace. Grace should produce as much as or more than law demanded. Regular systematic giving is clearly taught in the New Testament. It is known as the grace of giving.¹¹² The gauge or rule of this systematic giving is defined in the Old Testament, known as the law of tithing. All Christians should conscientiously and systematically tithe their income to God.
